What level is the exam?

The exam focuses on Level C1 (IELTS band score 6.5 to 8.0) of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) – the level required for academic and professional success.

What's in the exam?

Supported by the largest research programme of its kind, the exam is designed to be fair to users of all nationalities and linguistic backgrounds.

It covers all four language skills (Reading, Writing, Listening and Speaking) and knowledge of grammar and vocabulary.

Reading and Use of English:
1 hour 30 minutes

Shows you can understand texts from publications such as fiction and non-fiction books, journals, newspapers and magazines.

Writing:
1 hour 30 minutes

Shows you can produce two different pieces of writing, including an essay

Listening:
40 minutes

Shows you can follow and understand a range of spoken materials.

Speaking:
15 minutes

Shows you can communicate in a real-life context. You take the test face-to-face with one or two other candidates.

The Reading and Use of English paper is worth 40% of the marks, and each of the other papers is worth 20%.
